Join the Green Dialogue

Your voice matters! Register for the Sustainability Exchange to share your country's story and connect with students. Let's work together to raise a greater awareness!

What will you be doing?

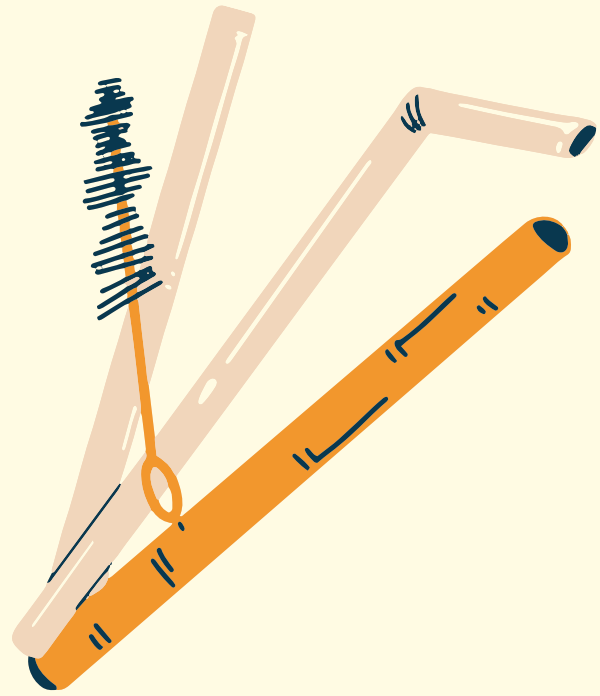

Registered students will be grouped to create presentations on sustainability ideas from their countries. The event will take place on December 12, 2024. Here are some examples to spark your creativity:

- Discover how your country harness renewable energy.
- Explore eco-friendly transportation options, including public transit systems, bike-sharing programs, and initiatives promoting electric vehicles and alternative fuels.
- Examine sustainable farming techniques, agroecology, and organic farming methods used in your country.

The presentation can take the following forms:

- Multimedia Presentation: use slides with pictures, charts, or graphics to show specific sustainable development topics;
- Video Recording: make a short film or video to present your ideas. These could be docs, expert interviews, or animations.
- Interactive Presentation: engage the audience with interactive presentations. Ask questions or run mini-games or quizzes;
- Practical Activities: Show practical examples of sustainable actions, like eco-friendly products, or sustainable technologies.
- Lecture: Talk about your sustainable development topics using notes or slides in a traditional presentation.

WILL THERE BE SOMEONE WHO CAN HELP ME?

Yes! Your group will be assigned a mentor, one of the academic teachers who will assist you with your presentation, guide you in the right direction, and provide feedback on the sustainability of your idea.

Are there any prizes available?

Yes! There will be prizes in the following categories:

- Creativity Award – for the most creative and innovative approach to sustainable development;
- Inspiration Award – for the presentation that most inspired event participants to take action for sustainable development;
- Insightfulness Award – for the most insightful and thorough approach to a specific sustainable development topic.
